COURSE DESCRIPTION:

The course surveys literature from the ancient world epics to modern novels, encompassing a number of major writers, cultures, and important genres and themes. The course aims to provide a foundation for understanding literature by focusing on the historical and cultural contexts in which the literature was written and the changing conventions it employs. As such, you will be expected to learn/remember a fair amount of history: names, dates, and cultural terminology.

TEXTS:

- Prentice Hall: Timeless Voice and Timeless Themes, Platinum Edition
- Selected Short Stories
- Core literature- Assorted novels
